COGNAC

The biggest question we are asked is 'So why Cognac? Isn't it really strong & for old people?' Actually no to both. Many things often associated with the drink known as eau de vie; water of life, are misconceptions & couldn't be further from the truth.

No longer is Cognac sipped from a huge balloon that's been heated by an old man & his butane gun. It's the new (old) kid on the block when it comes to cool. We have so many ways to start your Cognac journey. Whether in one of our handcrafted cocktails, trying a VS with a mixer right through to an XO on ice with a dash of soda.

Cognac will tantalise your tastebuds with a scope of flavours including spicy, fruity, sweet, bitter & we have chosen the very best for you.

Cognac is versatile, beautifully balanced & completely understated. We are here to put it back on the map... well, starting in Crows Nest at the very least.

Here is a little more about a few of our favourites.

HENNESSY

Hennessy's quest for excellence has been constant since 1765. This is evident through a long, unbroken line of Master Blenders. Exercising daily tastings from a Tasting Committee of one of a kind experts to ensure only the very best gets chosen.

Doesn't it show? The savoir-faire of the Maison Hennessy is fully expressed in their balanced cognac: from the selection of eaux-de-vie, aging & assemblage. A cognac of remarkable consistency and vitality,

From its vibrant & dynamic personality through to its round and robust flavours. Hennessy delivers a powerful diversity evoking a wave of different emotions.

FRAPIN

Frapin is located in the centre of the Grande Champagne Premier Cru du Cognac region in the sleepy little town of Segonzac, the finest designated region in Cognac. It is the only merchant located in the town & only sells Cognacs produced from grapes sourced from its own 778 acre estate in the heart of the Grande Champagne region.

The Frapin family have been winegrowers since 1270 and mostly sold their Cognacs to Remy Martin, Hennessy, Courvoisier & other houses until the 1980's. Since 1984, when the Cointreau family took over what was then a largely unknown brand, it has been selling increasing quantities of brandies.

These brandies are aged in new wood for longer than their competitors, so confident are they with the quality of it's brandies, the size of its stocks represent 18 years of sales (an amount of 2 to 3 times the quantity of the aged stocks held by its competitors). Frapin keeps its best cognacs in new oak for up to 2 and a half years, depending on the amount of colour (and therefore tannin) the spirit has absorbed.

COURVOISIER

Courvoisier Cognac is a delicate blend of art & science that combines old technique with new technologies. Crafted from 200 year old oak trees individually selected, there is a great deal of love and attention that goes in at every step of the way which results in these exquisite grapes.

Courvoisier is one of the few Cognac houses to 'distill on the lees', a specific technique unique which is how they create these delicate, youthful and lively blends. A beautiful balance of oak to strong notes of fresh fruit and exotic flavours.

Hedonist

Hedonist is a exquisite blend of V.S. Cognac, natural ginger & natural vanilla. The harmony of the blend delivers the Cognac's richness on the first note. The light bitterness of the ginger comes through & is then followed by a sweet and fresh note of vanilla. The Cognac's strength holds the blend together and creates a full sense experience.

MEUKOW

The Meukow House was founded in the 19th century. In 1850, Auguste-Christophe and Gustav Meukow, two brothers from Silesia, were sent to France by Tsar Alexander II of Russia with orders to secure the supply of cognac for the Court. After several voyages, they decided to set up a commercial office in the town of Cognac and founded the A.C. MEUKOW & Co. House on 1 August 1862. Managed under the influence of illustrious shareholders such as Henri Bouraud, who was Mayor of Cognac from 1849 to 1869, the company grew rapidly from the very beginning as evidenced by the prestigious events held around the world.

The expertise and expression of the Cellar Master are fully revealed at the time of blending. This delicate art requires both experience and intuition, & consists of blending different eaux-de-vie of different ages in order to obtain a harmonious and aromatic nectar.

To guarantee the inimitable Meukow style, Anne Sarteaux mainly uses Grande Champagne and Petite Champagne Cognacs, which are notable for the rich complexity of their floral notes, as well as Fins Bois, Bons Bois & Borderies, which provide fruity aromas and woody qualities that will bring a perfect balance to the blend.

LOUJAN BAS ARMAGNAC

Armagnac is France's oldest and finest brandy all produced in the Gascony region to the southeast of Bordeaux. Even to this day Armagnac remains a craft industry with small, artisanal producers using historic production methods and little promotion.

All of the Loujan Bas Armagnacs have been blended together by the great Marc Darroze, of Francis Darroze. Loujan lies within the historical confines of the "Grand Loujan Bas Armagnac Bas Armagnac" near the villages of Mormes. The tiny 5 ha Loujan vineyard is planted to all 3 varieties and each are vinified and distilled and aged separately on site. Loujan is traditionally distilled in a single continuous still known as an Alambic Armagnacais.

This process of heating the wine until it produces steam, capturing the rich, full bodied aromas in a pure and unaltered fashion, then converting the steam to the final 'Eau de vie', is exactly what sets Armagnac apart from other fine brandies.
